

ALCIDE

Analysis of Language and Content in a Digital Environment

*Which founding fathers of Europe are mentioned by De Gasperi during his speeches?
Which were the main topics dealt with by Kennedy and Nixon at the end of their presidential campaign?*

No more need for extensive research on texts to answer these questions: you'll have the answer in few seconds, quickly and effectively using ALCIDE!

ALCIDE is a new platform for Historical Content Analysis tailored to the needs of researchers in late modern and contemporary history.

ALCIDE provides a wide collection of tools for automatic textual analysis.

Every function and information provided by ALCIDE is time bounded and all query functions can be refined through temporal constraints.

Project in collaboration with ISIG, the Italian-German Historical Institute at FBK.

Upcoming New Functionalities:
new design to improve flexibility and allow visual comparisons
